

Pornography-Proofing Your iPhone

Preventing pornography from being easily accessible on your phone requires teamwork of the husband and wife. Ideally, the wife should hold the four-digit restriction passcode for the husband's phone and vice versa. While the steps below do not guarantee complete pornography prevention, they strongly eliminate the possibility of removing easy access. Growing accustomed to a non-Safari browser takes time and isn't as convenient, but that is a small price to pay for marital fidelity.

- ⇒ Update your iPhone to the latest software.
- ⇒ Create a secure passcode for the restrictions that is unknown to the iPhone user (Settings > General > Restrictions and select Enable).
- ⇒ Once in restrictions: disable Safari by toggling the Safari option left.
- ⇒ Find the website preferences and click “limit adult content.”
- ⇒ Under the Apps option select the rating limit of your choice (warning: 12+ apps such as snapchat and youtube or 17+ apps such as generic web browsers can allow inappropriate content).
- ⇒ Close out of restrictions.
- ⇒ Download a new family-friendly Internet browser (Covenant Eyes, K9 Kid Friendly Browser, SafeGuard, Ranger Browser Safe Browser, AVG Family Safety) to use in lieu of Safari or Google Chrome.

Congratulations on proactively guarding your family against the dangerous effects of pornography!
